

TRADIPHARISEISM

excerpts from the sermon of Rev. Father Rene Trincado

November 18, 2017 - If we traditionalists have the truth, it is by a gift, by a grace from God. However, the light of true faith is to illuminate men in order to eternal salvation, not to dazzle them by showing off our knowledge, nor to crush them.

Be careful with the adjective of “modernists”.

Let us not look with disdain on the rest of the Catholics, whom we usually call dry "modernists", because, in their vast majority, they are victims of robbers who rob them of the true faith.

Be careful, because these, very often, very often, are just that: victims, not victimizers. They are not the robbers in the parable, but the man who is robbed.

Let us think, for example, of the immense spiritual good that, in their great simplicity, with their fervent prayers, these elderly “modernists” do, true devotees of the Rosary, infallible in the Parishes.

Let us think of those cloistered “modernist” nuns who, despite the New Mass and bad sermons, live entirely crucified because of their ardent charity.

Let us think of those “Priests” and lay people who strive sincerely to attain holiness, despite having to breathe every day the liberal smoke that entered the temple through the crack dug from within by a Hierarchy of traitors.

Beware of the contempt of others: it does not occur to us that we are sometimes saying the prayer of the Pharisee:

"I thank you, Lord,
that I am not like other men,
nor like these stupid and ignorant modernists in the parishes. "

Beware: worse than being a modernist material heretic is being a proud traditionalist, because God resists the proud and gives his grace to the humble (1 Peter 5:5).

Beware of pride.

Pharisaic pride is the great temptation of traditionalists. The Pharisees were the descendants of the Asideans, those traditionalist martyrs and heroes who fought under the orders of the Maccabees.

Beware of arrogance.

Those who seem to live on diatribes and arguments should be asked what is more important: being right or having charity.

If we traditionalists have the truth, it is by a gift, by the grace of God. However, the light of true faith exists to enlighten men towards eternal salvation, not to dazzle them with a show of knowledge, nor to crush them.

May God make us charitable and humble.

Certainly, we traditionalists must be the Good Samaritan, especially towards all the poor sheep who are attacked and wounded by those ministers of the devil who give them liberal and modernist poison to drink.

The latter behave like the thieves in the parable, in a much more criminal manner than the Priest and the Levite, who sinned only by omission. These thieves are the liberal Hierarchy that has objectively despoiled and murdered souls since that veritable ambush that was the Second Vatican Council.

With these poisoners of souls, there is no point in seeking any cooperation or harmony, much less accepting the possibility of one day submitting to their destructive power.

If the Samaritan had intended to place himself at the orders of the thieves, he would not have been committing an act of charity, but rather the greatest folly imaginable. And he would have ended up robbing, or robbing – and half-dead – him too.

- Almighty, so that the Lord's mercies may reach us as soon as possible, subdue the dragon, the ancient serpent who is the devil and Satan, chain him and cast him into the abyss, so that he cannot seduce the people. Amen.

- Behold the Cross of the Lord, flee to the enemy powers. The Lion of Judah, the branch of David, has conquered.

- May your mercies, Oh Lord, be fulfilled upon us. As we have expected from you.

- Lord, hear my prayer and may my cries rise up to you. Oh God, Our Lord Jesus Christ, we invoke your Holy Name and insistently implore your clemency so that through the intercession of Mary Immaculate, ever Virgin, our Mother, and of the glorious Saint Michael the Archangel, you may deign to help us against Satan and all the other unclean spirits that roam the earth to harm the human race and destroy souls. Amen.

Excerpts from the sermon of Rev. Father Rene Trincado, published at <http://nonpossumusvcr.blogspot.com/2013/08/sermon-domingo-xii-despues-de.html>, taken from the now defunct site catolicosalerta.ar, which in turn took it from <http://nonpossumusvcr.blogspot.com.ar/2016/02/tradifarisaismo.html>